

The Facts Behind CleggPromo's Video In Print (VIP) Patents

- VIP was invented in 2009 and patented in 2011 (U.S. Pat. No. 8,011,122).
- This patent covers any folding print media that plays a video when first opened, and plays at least two additional videos through the use of chapter buttons.
- CleggPromo is the Sole Licensee authorized to sell this product.
- All of the most common VIP designs are patented, including standard landscape and portrait layouts, both with buttons and without. CleggPromo is the Sole Licensee of this VIP design patent portfolio.

- Every VIP shown on this page is a patented design. Please visit www.cleggpromo.com/designpatent to see our complete portfolio of design patents.
- If you are selling a video product which is covered by either the utility or design patents, and it's not from CleggPromo, you are infringing.
- Please email Chris Hodge, President of CleggPromo at chodge@cleggpromo.com with any questions.
- Our pledge: We will give you the very best price on genuine licensed Video In Print products.
- Let's respect intellectual property. No one in the industry wins when knock-offs are promoted and sold.

Contact us today to discuss your VIP projects or any questions you may have on our patent portfolio.

Video in Print™ is covered by one or more of the following patents: U.S. Patent Nos. 8,011,122, D629,458, D629,459, D642,611, D643,060, D647,559, D649,558, D649,559, D654,113, D655,750, D660,909, D661,732 and D691,194.

Visit www.CleggPromo.com for our complete product line and updated pricing (prices subject to change).